

Merrell Bailey to Speak at UCF Accounting Conference April 30, 2014

Maitland, FL – April 29, 2014 – Your Caring Law Firm, a boutique legal practice focused on probate, wills, trust and guardianship services, as well as business succession, asset protection and estate planning, today announced that managing partner Merrell Bailey will speak at the 33rd annual Accounting Conference. The three day event, hosted by the UCF College of Business Administration, will begin on Wednesday, April 30, 2014, and be held at the school's main campus in Orlando.

On the first day of the conference, Bailey will present "Tax, Estate Planning, and Guardianship Lessons from Celebrity Deaths & Disasters," a look at the recent deaths and estate planning of celebrities such as Paul Walker, James Gandolfini and Philip Seymour Hoffman. Specifically, her presentation will explain how the survivors are impacted, what information can be released, and who has a say in what happens now.

"I'm a slave to pop culture," Bailey explained. "Celebrity situations offer an interesting opportunity to discuss difficult topics that apply to everyone. Who will raise your young daughter if you cannot? You share this concern with James Gandolfini, Paul Walker, Philip Seymour Hoffman, and Michael Jackson. Learning how they approached the issue might help you to tackle your own planning." Bailey said.

About The UCF College of Business Administration

The University of Central Florida College of Business Administration has been an integral part of the university since classes began in 1968. Dean Paul Jarley and his staff have built strong relationships with students and alumni, whose number is legion – the college accounts for almost a tenth of UCF's student population – and UCF is the second largest university in the nation. The College of Business Administration offers degrees at the bachelor's, master's, doctoral, and executive levels and also is home to the Kenneth G. Dixon School of Accounting. Merrell Bailey has five degrees from the UCF College of Business Administration, was inducted into its Hall of Fame in 2012, and is a member of its Dean's Advisory Board.
